Instructions to Applicant: You may enter online at www.gon.com.

- BEFORE the deer is caped or skinned, have digital or 35 mm color-print photos taken of you and your buck. Digital photos must be sent on a CD or entered online at <www.gon.com>. Deer that are caped or skinned before photos are taken are not eligible for entry. Digital photos should be at least 1 megabyte in size. Your photo may appear in GON, so take the time to get quality shots. Poor photos will not be published.
  - On a separate sheet of paper, write a description of your entire hunt.
  - Read the official rules of the Truck-Buck contest. Then sign and date this entry form at the bottom.
  - Along with this Official Entry Form and the written hunt story, mail the prints of your developed 35mm photos or a CD of digital photos. (GON cannot return these photos; take others for your own use). The entire entry must be received by GON within seven (7) business days of the date the buck was killed. We strongly recommend the use of 1-hour film development and next-day priority mail. A missed deadline means the buck is disqualified from the contest. Online entries must include at least three quality digital photos of the entrant with his or her buck.
  - Remove or have your taxidermist remove the rack so that only the antlers attached to the skull plate remain. Do not mount, pin or brace this rack for any reason. Do not soak or submerge this rack in any solution. Do not freeze the rack for an extended period except as may be necessary until the rack, head and cape can be transported to a taxidermist. Allow the rack to air-dry naturally.
  - Do not have the rack scored by an official Boone & Crockett measurer prior to the official contest scoring day without GON approval.
  - Read the contest coverage in the January and February 2010 issues of GON to learn the date, time and location of the official contest scoring event. Bring only the intact rack (antlers and skull plate) to the official scoring event. Only racks that are properly entered and brought to the official scoring event are eligible to compete in the Truck-Buck contest.
  - Be careful with the rack. GON cannot score a broken rack or a rack with a cracked or broken skull plate.
- I hereby affirm that this buck was taken by legal means and that no state laws or rules of the GON Truck-Buck contest were violated. I agree to take a polygraph test at a time and location to be determined by GON, and I agree that my failure to take or pass the polygraph test will result in my disqualification from the Truck-Buck contest.*

Have Quality Photos Taken:

- Select an uncluttered background.
- Hold the rack in a way that doesn't hide points or parts of the antlers.
- Have the photographer take each shot at a different angle and distance (no closer than 6 feet, no farther than 15). Take 12 or more pictures.
- The sun should be shining in your face and on the photographer's back.
- Use a flash in low-light conditions.
- Tuck in or hide the buck's tongue.
